

ABSTRACT

5 The present invention provides a monoclonal antibody specific for an epitope which is unique to the surface protein component of an inactivated feline immunodeficiency virus (FIV) envelope glycoprotein. Said antibody is useful for the quantification of inactivated FIV or the determination of the potency of an inactivated FIV vaccine.